CEnREP Lunch Colloquium

Feb. 7th – 12:00 – 1:00 in the Nelson Board Room (3220 Nelson Hall)

Evan Rogers, Ph.D. Candidate of the Department of Economics at NC State, will be presenting, “Effectiveness of Subsidies for Residential Rooftop Solar Adoption: Lessons from California.”

All talks are from noon to 1pm, and feel free to bring your lunch. Boris will lead off this Friday, although the chaos that comes with the start of the school year has prevented me from securing a workshop room. I will pass along this information as soon as I have it, hopefully by the end of the day Tuesday.

The latest semester schedule will soon be posted to the CEnREP web page:

The schedule for this semester's colloquium sponsored by the Center for Environmental and Resource Economic Policy (CEnREP). This lunch-time colloquium is designed to give students and faculty a forum for presenting and receiving early feedback on work relating to environmental and natural resource management. The colloquium is also a great opportunity for students to learn about the research relating to environmental and natural resource economics that is ongoing by students and faculty at NCSU.

Laura O. Taylor, Director, Center for Environmental and Resource Economics Policy (www.ncsu.edu/cenrep/) Professor, Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics, NCSU

Copies of the papers, when available, will be posted on the Econometrics workshop's webpage http://www.4.ncsu.edu/~dpellet/workshop/index.html

None to report.

Finance Workshops Series

Finance Workshop Series
Organizer: Karlyn Mitchell

Graduate Student Academic Year Workshop
Fridays from 3-4:15pm in Nelson 4210.

To sign up for a slot, please email Prof. Melinda Morrill (melinda_morrill@ncsu.edu) with your preferred date(s), the type of presentation (30 minute or 1 hour 15 minute), your main advisor(s), and your title/topic. The schedule will be posted at (http://www4.ncsu.edu/~msmorril/NCSU_GradWorkshop.html) and will be updated continuously.

Graduate students are encouraged to present work at any stage. For very early-stage work, students should elect for 30 minute slots. The 1 hour 15 minute slots are reserved for work that is closer to completion. For either type of workshop, students are required to prepare slides and a formal presentation.

Students must register for a slot at least two weeks in advance so that the classroom can be reserved. Prior to signing up for a slot, students should consult with at least one faculty member. Students are responsible for making sure their main advisor and at least one other faculty member in their area of interest are available and willing to attend prior to requesting a date.

A schedule of all student presentations will be posted. Students presenting should send out one email advertising their talk about 4 days in advance. The email should be sent to graduate students and faculty members in the Economics and ARE departments.
Macro/International seminar

The Tree Seminar Series:

February 13, 2014, Rob Johnston, Clark University
March 6, 2014, Catherine Kling, Iowa State University
March 27, 2014, Andrew Yates, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
April 10, 2014, Jennifer Alix-Garcia, University of Wisconsin-Madison

All seminars are at 3:15pm on the RTI campus. Papers and further details for each seminar will be posted as soon as possible at the TREE website: http://www.ncsu.edu/cenrep/workshops/TREE/index.php. If you would like to subscribe/unsubscribe to this list, please email env_econ@ncsu.edu.
We look forward to seeing you at the seminars, Marty Smith (marsmith@duke.edu), Roger von Haefen (rhhaefen@ncsu.edu) & Chris Timmins (christopher.timmins@duke.edu) if you have any questions.

CEnREP has joined with RTI International and Duke University to present the Triangle Resource and Environmental Economics Seminar Series. Support for the workshops is provided by the Department of Agricultural and Resources Economics and the Department of Economics at NC State University, RTI International and Duke University. Prominent speakers are brought in from universities throughout the nation as well as government agencies to speak on topics of current interest. Workshops are held on the campus of RTI International in Research Triangle Park (map). The workshops are coordinated by Dan Phaneuf, CEnREP Associate Director, George Van Houtven of RTI International, and Marty Smith of Duke University.

WARNING ABOUT SECURITY PROCEDURES AT RTI! The gates at the two main entrances are working 24/7 (instead of just after office hours). Visitors should use the intercom at the gate and tell the security person they are at RTI for the TREE seminar. That should be enough to get them inside the campus and from there everything should be business as usual. If there are any problems at the gate, visitors should ask for Melissa Jessup (x7137) or for George Van Houtven (x7150).

For the most current information please visit the CEnREP website: http://www.ncsu.edu/cenrep/workshops/TREE/index.php

NCSU Library workshops

Econ Grad Students:
Over the course of your studies and research, if you find that our library is lacking any resources that would be beneficial to graduate students in the economics department, please contact me with your suggestions. I'm the econ graduate student library representative, and it's my job to make sure the library has what we (graduate students in economics) need.

Keep in mind that the NCSU Libraries offer a variety of services tailored to the needs of faculty, graduate students and researchers. The services include research consultation service, workshops, GIS and data services, dedicated spaces, and many others.

Registration for our Fall 2013 Research Workshops is now open!
