2014 INTERNSHIP OPPORTUNITY WITH
THE FEDERAL RESERVE BANK OF KANSAS CITY

The Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City has an opening for a ten week summer internship position in Regional Affairs at the Omaha Branch office. The position will assist staff economists on several ongoing research projects. In addition, the position will provide support on various monetary policy activities and surveys.

Key Activities
- Providing research support for Bank and academic publications
- Analyzing data using various statistical methods
- Developing and documenting data collection processes

Qualifications
Candidates having earned, or currently enrolled in, a graduate degree program in economics or agricultural economics will be considered. Candidates should also possess the following:
- Exceptional academic record
- Strong analytical foundation
- Solid written and oral communication skills
- Working knowledge of statistical programming, (e.g., SAS, Matlab, or Stata)
- Ability to manage several projects at once

Application Instructions
Applicants should access the following website to apply (click on link or copy and paste into browser): http://campusrecruiting.kcfed.org

Search and select the “Regional Affairs Summer Internship-Omaha Branch” position, complete the application and attach a cover letter, resume, and transcript (can be unofficial) by Friday, February 14, 2014. The internship will begin in June 2014 with a salary ranging between $15 and $16 per hour. The Bank is an equal opportunity employer.