Shapiro Professor of Public Policy & Public Administration [Associate or Full Professor]

Application is invited for a tenured faculty position in the Trachtenberg School of Public Policy and Public Administration, George Washington University, beginning in fall 2014. The successful candidate will teach courses in the MPP, MPA and/or PhD programs. Rank and salary will be commensurate with experience. Graduate research assistant support and teaching load reduction may be available.

The Trachtenberg School is nationally ranked among the top twenty graduate programs in public affairs, and is designated as a Center of Excellence by the George Washington University. We offer masters degrees in public policy (MPP), public administration (MPA) and a PhD in Public Policy and Administration.

Basic Qualifications: Applicants must have a PhD in Public Administration, Public Policy or related social science or professional field. Applicants must have a sustained program of academic research in public administration and/or public policy, with teaching and research emphasis in areas such as social/urban policy, public management, public program implementation and evaluation, public budgeting, or public finance/public economics resulting in a strong publication record.

Application Procedure: To apply, please complete an online faculty application at http://www.gwu.jobs/postings/18118 and upload a cover letter indicating research and teaching interests and qualifications, curriculum vitae, and sample publications. Finalists will be required to submit three academic references and teaching evaluations.

Review of applications will begin on November 1, 2013 and continue until the position is filled. Only complete applications will be considered. For more information, send an email to tssearch@gwu.edu. Also see our web site at www.tspppa.gwu.edu.
