We wanted to let you know of a position we have open for the 2013/2014 academic year here in the Department of Economics at Wake Forest University.

This position will be a Visiting Assistant Professor. The candidate will teach our ECN 150 class - Intro to Economics - three sections in the fall semester and three sections in the spring semester.

Please forward this on to your PHD candidates. ABD will be accepted. Application materials should include an application letter, CV, statement of teaching philosophy, sample research paper and three letters of recommendation. These materials can be sent to me via e-mail.

The due date for these applications is Friday, April 12, 2013.

Thank you in advance for forwarding this information to your PHD candidates.

Sincerely,

Joanne VanSice

Joanne VanSice
Administrative Coordinator
Department of Economics
Wake Forest University