Brown University, Department of Economics
Tenure Track Position
Assistant Professor

Any Field

The Economics Department at Brown University, is seeking one or more tenure-track faculty at the Assistant Professor level, with the positions beginning July 1, 2013. Candidates in any field will be considered but we have a particular interest in the fields of macroeconomics, econometrics, and applied microeconomics. We also have an interest in candidates who can contribute to the Business Economics track of an interdisciplinary program in Business Entrepreneurship, and Organization involving the Departments of Economics and Sociology and the School of Engineering.

Candidates should have a Ph.D. in hand or firmly expected by August 2013 and should show promise of significant scholarship and teaching ability. A completed application will include a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, and a copy of important publications or working papers. All candidates must apply online at http://www.econjobmarket.org/. Applicants also must arrange for three letters of recommendation to be submitted online. Applications must be received by November 15, 2012 to be guaranteed full consideration but will be accepted until the positions are filled.

Brown University is an EEO/AA employer. Minorities and women are encouraged to apply.
