

M120: Professional Development and Career Planning Course

Overview

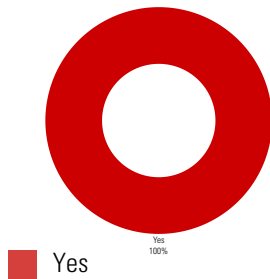

M120 is a one-hour elective course designed to prepare students for their professional career. Guest employer speakers present career strategies on topics such as networking, interviewing, preparing for your internship/job, managing your performance and much more!

As a result of the class...

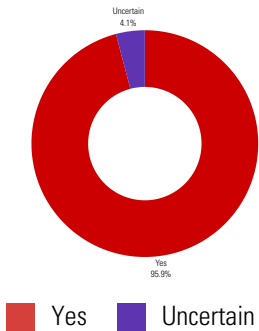

Have you secured an internship?

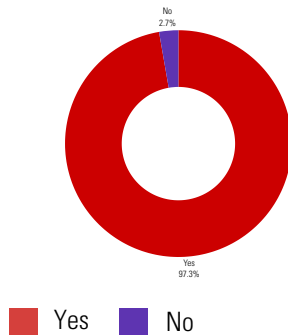

Are you more confident in conducting informational interviews?

Are you likely to recommend M120 to a fellow student?

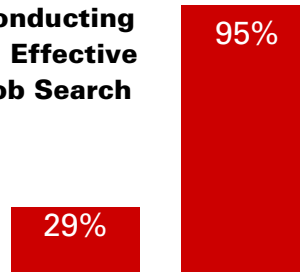

Are you more comfortable with networking?

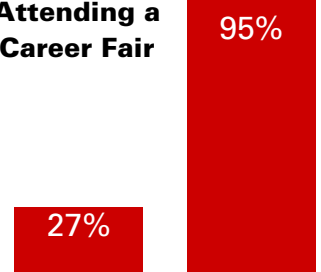

Pre vs Post-Assessment Preparedness

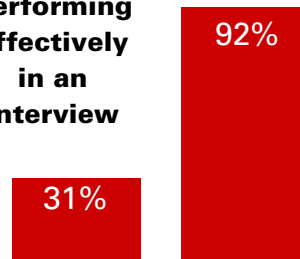

Conducting an Effective Job Search

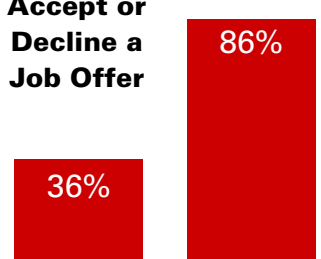

Attending a Career Fair

Performing Effectively in an Interview

Accept or Decline a Job Offer

Student Testimonials

"This has been the most helpful class I have taken so far at NC State. It is relevant to all of us, and I am appreciative of all of the topics we have studied this semester."

"This class was among my favorites of the semester and has made me really love what NC State represents. It was very encouraging to see how alumni, faculty, and students all interact to make dreams happen."

93% of students after taking M120 felt confident in writing an effective resume

87% of students after taking M120 felt confident in succeeding in an internship or full-time job

71% of students after taking M120 utilized career resources offered by Poole College of Management

*Data is pulled from Fall 2023.